McCarthy of Polk seconded the nomination of Kraig Paulsen for Speaker of the House and moved that the Acting Chief Clerk be authorized to cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives of the Eighty-fifth General Assembly.

In accordance with the foregoing motion, the Acting Chief Clerk cast the votes of all the members of the House of Representatives for the Honorable Kraig Paulsen as the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Eighty-fifth General Assembly, and was declared duly elected to that office.

Sands of Louisa moved that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Speaker to the chair.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Sands of Louisa and Dunkel of Dubuque.

PRESENTATION OF SPEAKER

The Honorable Kraig Paulsen was escorted to the Speaker's station and, having been sworn, assumed the chair. Temporary Speaker Windschitl presented Speaker Paulsen with the gavel and congratulated him on his unanimous election.

Speaker Paulsen thanked the House for the honor bestowed upon him and offered the following remarks:

Welcome members of the 85th General Assembly. Friends, family, Iowans - it's good to have you here today as we begin another legislative session.

First of all, thank you. Thank you for the unique honor of being your Speaker. This is an honor I do not take lightly or for granted. This body is a reflection of the great people of Iowa and I will strive every day to uphold the honor of this great institution and all that it represents.

A special welcome to the newly-elected members -- this job brings unique responsibilities and a special trust, one that I know you appreciate. The veteran members of this chamber look forward to your energy and the new ideas you bring to the process.

I want to take a moment to thank my family; especially my wife Cathy and our children Kassandra, Kylere, Kale and Keith. It is because of your love and support that I am able to serve the people of our house district and our state in this role. Thank you for your understanding and sharing in the sacrifice of our time together.

As we walk up the steps to do our work in this historic and beautiful building, we are keenly aware of those that have come before us and the history made within these chambers. As we do the people's business, we should reflect upon the progress that has been made so that we build on these successes and make decisions that move Iowa forward and make Iowa strong.

There is little doubt that we have significant challenges and difficult decisions ahead of us. However if we take the time to listen to Iowans and seek their input, we will do what is right. If we always remember where we come from and who we work for, Iowa will continue on the path to prosperity.

Coming off an election cycle, we have all spent a great deal of time meeting with Iowans in our districts, getting their thoughts and making commitments to them. Two of the most prevalent issues Iowans heard from the campaigns this summer revolve around state spending and comprehensive tax relief. Republicans and Democrats alike ran on these issues and Iowans expect action.

Two years ago, the state faced a $900 million budget shortfall. Today, we have an ending balance of $688 million and our budget reserves are full. Plain and simple, we are in the current budget situation due to the fiscal discipline insisted upon by this chamber and the leadership shown by Governor Branstad over the last two sessions.

This is a fundamental change in legislative decision making, driven not by us, but by Iowans. This is a significant departure from how government operated in the past where every dollar was spent, even some we didn't have.

Our 99 percent expenditure limitation law has served us well. However, this law allows the Legislature and the governor to spend more than the state collects. This loophole is one House Republicans will not exploit. The only way to ensure sustainable and responsible state spending is to spend no more than we have – that is to say we must balance ongoing revenue with ongoing expenses.

House Republicans have instilled a fundamental culture change and we must not, we will not, retreat now.

This chamber must stick to the principles used to get our fiscal house in order:

- We will not spend more money than the state takes in;
- We will not use one-time money to pay for on-going expenses;
- We will not intentionally underfund entitlement programs to balance the state's budget;
- We will return unused tax dollars to Iowa's taxpayers.

There are some who see the state's ending balance as a giant pot of money, and they have already begun devising ways to spend it. If we were to spend everything we were allowed to under law, the state would need to see nine percent growth in 2014 revenues just to maintain that level of funding. This is unsustainable and should caution everyone making spending plans.

Let me be very clear – the ending balance is an overpayment by the hardworking taxpayers of Iowa. It is their money and they should get it back. In order to continue on the path of sound budgeting we must not back up from this pledge. We must not use this overpayment to feed government's appetite for growth.

Representative Soderberg –Iowans look forward to your committee bringing us a budget that conforms to these principles.

Most, if not all of us in this chamber have also said we need to go to work on reducing taxes, specifically property taxes. I would say that time is long since overdue.

A while back I received an email from Patty, a small business owner in my hometown of Hiawatha. This business has been locally owned and operated for more than 25 years. Patty stated, "I think your message that Iowa is open for business sounds great, but is questionable. Last year our property taxes went up over 14 percent. This should be illegal. It has become difficult for our small business to continue to compete in such a climate. We need new equipment and more employees."

Our job creators want to hire, they want to invest in our communities. They are being stifled and burdened by our government and their taxes. It's up to us to change this.

Now is the time for action, not more lip service. Iowans grow weary of campaign promises during election summers that turn into roadblocks and partisan bickering during session winters.

Some talk about giving one group of people this credit and another group that credit. This is neither comprehensive nor predictable tax relief and reform. It is arbitrary, restrictive, and unreliable. We need comprehensive reform, reform for ALL lowers

Additionally, local governments are projected to collect more in property taxes than ever before. The rollback has turned into the roll up and homeowners are paying the price in a big way. From Fiscal Year 2012 to 2013 alone, local governments will take an ADDITIONAL $100 million from Iowans. We must act to address this rapid growth in government spending. If we do not, the hardworking taxpayers are again getting the short end of the stick.

During the previous General Assembly, this chamber came together with Governor Branstad and passed four property tax reform bills in a bipartisan manner only to watch them die in the Senate. The 85th General Assembly must do better.

I say again, House Republicans are not dug in on any one plan – we are open to any suggestion, but it must deliver significant and real property tax savings and include all classes of property. The focus cannot be on protecting and maximizing government revenues.

Representative Sands, Iowans look forward to your committee bringing us a property tax reform and relief bill that includes all classifications of property, that moves us away from having the third highest commercial property taxes in the nation and the 16th highest residential property taxes in the nation. Taxpayers need relief they can count on.

All of the proposals we work on must be directed at creating a stronger Iowa – a strong economy, strong budget leadership and strong schools and communities.

House Republicans will:

- Offer meaningful, inclusive, and reliable property tax relief and reforms.
- Eliminate job-killing red tape, burdensome regulations and declare dead any bills that threaten economic growth such as repealing Right to Work.
- Advance education reforms that offer accountability, innovation and choice for parents. We are not interested in simply throwing more money at a system that drives us to mediocrity. We are interested in identifying creative solutions that raise student achievement, empower teachers and better prepare young Iowans to compete in a global marketplace. These ideas must be helpful to teachers not just another bureaucratic burden.
- Create a one-stop shop for business startups using existing departments to streamline the process and encourage entrepreneurship.

 Allow hardworking Iowa taxpayers to keep more of their money. We will streamline Iowa's income tax system and lower rates and continue to put any overpayment of tax dollars into the Taxpayer Trust Fund and return it directly to the pockets of Iowans.

This is not Washington, D.C. We do not offer ultimatums and push things off until they're about to go over a cliff. We're Iowans. We deal with our issues head on, and in a way that moves our state forward. We must resist any urge to kick the can any further down the road. Iowans chose a Republican House, a Democrat Senate and working with Governor Branstad, we have a real opportunity to achieve these goals.

We must not retreat from the challenges that face us — we must instead offer fundamental changes to government on behalf of the taxpayers of Iowa.

Lastly, and I mentioned this two years ago, but want to reiterate it. Later today we will be choosing the desks that will be assigned to each of us for the next two years. I mention this to make this point: while that is where we will be assigned and where we will work, these are not our desks. They belong to the 30,000 Iowans back home which we represent; they just let us sit in them. We must keep this in mind.

Now - let's get to work.

Thank you and may God bless our work in this chamber and the great state of Iowa.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Cownie of Polk and Lykam of Scott.

Representative Steven Olson was escorted to the Speaker's station and, being duly sworn, offered the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House and guests. First, thank you Representatives Cownie, Hanusa, and Lykam - I am humbled by your kind words. Also, thank you to my fellow legislators. It is an honor to serve as the Speaker Pro Tempore once again.

Today, I am grateful; grateful that my constituents chose to send me back here, back to this building to be their voice in the legislature. It is with tremendous honor and gratitude that I took the oath of office today with my family with me – my wife Eunice, (insert names of all family at the Capitol). I am also grateful that you, my colleagues have chosen me as the Speaker Pro Tempore.

Ladies and gentlemen; today we all begin a journey together; working together for a common goal – working for the good of the fine people of this great state. It has been said many times before "we can do better," ladies and gentlemen, it is true we can do better and we will do better.

Last fall, together with Governor Branstad and the Senate Republicans, House Republicans presented an action plan. An action plan to promote a durable and prosperous Iowa – that action plan is called Iowa Strong. It is an ambitious agenda – one that is about the big issues and this session must center on the big issues:

- -We must continue to work on keeping the Iowa economy moving forward by:
- -Promoting job creation through tax relief and reform for Iowa families and businesses
- -Ending job-killing red tape and burdensome regulations on Iowa farmers and businesses
- -Continuing to adopt a budget that spends less than we take in
- -Moving forward education reforms that will strengthen our schools and communities

Last November, Senator Marco Rubio visited our great state. He offered an astute observation on the American people, "The social and moral well-being of people is directly linked to their economic well-being." These words ring true — so when we begin the people's business here in this chamber and in committee meetings, we must continually keep in mind the most important issue that faces us — our economy.

Today, we have the nation's third highest property tax on businesses – this means all business large and small. We cannot afford to over burden the small businesses are the backbone of our economy and the large-scale job creators. But not just that --- we need to lower income taxes for Iowa families and put more money in their pockets.

After all, the money the state collects is not our money – it comes from our constituents. When we consider spending decisions we must always keep that in mind. We must continue to spend the people's money wisely - and continue to do what we started - spend less than we take in.

Ladies and gentlemen, we have a lot of work to do. I look forward to working with all of you to make Iowa strong – to make our state a better place, to grow our economy. As we begin the 85th General Assembly let's remember we were elected to serve by the folks back home to make the right decisions for the betterment of this state.

Thank you, now let's get to work.

REMARKS BY MINORITY LEADER

McCarthy of Polk offered the following remarks:

Thank you Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentleman of the House.

First, congratulations to all of the newly elected Representatives. Today should be a special day for you and your loved ones. Also, Congratulations to Speaker Paulsen, Majority Leader Upmeyer, and Speaker Pro-Tem Olson. I look forward to working with you once again.

Mr. Speaker, House Democrats are ready to go to work.

Two years ago, I issued a statement during our opening day ceremony. Today, two years later, I'd like to paraphrase that statement now: House Democrats are ready to work with you in a bi-partisan way to move this great state forward. We are ready to focus on the important issues such as education, health care, public safety and a clean environment. Each and every day that House Democrats show up to work and find that the majority party is ready to work with us in a bi-partisan way on these and other important issues, then Mr. Speaker, you will receive a helping hand from us. But be mindful, however, if a day comes when House Democrats show up to work and instead find that the House ship has steered into stormy waters--- then House Democrats will attempt to steer that ship out of those stormy waters, away from the extreme...back to the mainstream.

In my opinion...far too many of those days occurred over the past two years.

Now, today, let's turn the page.

In a legislative publication I was reading yesterday, I learned that Iowa is one of only 3 states that has a legislature that is under divided control. Clearly, Iowans expect us to work together. Does anyone really believe anymore that Iowa is a so-called red state or a blue state? Looking at the results of the last several elections, it is clear that Iowa is the "purpleist" of purple states. Iowans expect us to work together. I think most would also agree that while Iowans would not expect us to forsake our principles, they would expect us, when needed, to find common ground and to moderate.

Let's work together this year in a spirit of compromise and common ground.

Next week, on Tuesday, a special election will occur to replace Representative Brian Quirk. After the votes are tallied and a winner is declared, the winner will come to Des Moines to be sworn-in. That swearing-in will occur many days after the pomp and circumstance and lofty speeches of our opening week. As that new legislator begins his committee work, let's let him be surprised at the level of bi-partisanship and civility he finds. That it is real... and was not merely buzzwords in our opening day speeches. Let's work together this year so that when the session is over we have not stories of partisan red meat to deliver to our political partisans back home, but instead stories of substantive success.

To that end, House Democrats pledge to work in a bipartisan way with the majority party and Governor Branstad to strengthen our educational system. Let us pass something in this regard we can all be proud of. Let us also work together to strengthen our mental health delivery system so that the most vulnerable amongst us are properly cared for and treated. Let us ensure that the transition between our precivil war prison to our new maximum security facility is done as smoothly as possible and in a way that ensures public safety. Also, let us work together to ensure clean air and clean water and fully fund the programs that maintain our trails, watersheds, and maintain our state parks.

Congratulations once again to all the legislators and their families. I look forward to working with all of you this year to make Iowa an even better place to live.

Mr. Speaker, as I said at the beginning of my speech, House Democrats are ready to go to work. Now Let's get to work!

Thank you Mr. Speaker.

REMARKS BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Upmeyer of Cerro Gordo offered the following remarks:

Thank you Mr. Speaker! Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, and guests, welcome to the 85th General Assembly.

It was humbling to walk into the Capitol this morning, walking past so much history, with the realization that I once again have been given the privilege of serving my neighbors and my state.

To the people of my district, thank you for this opportunity. I will humbly work to exceed the oath I have just taken. To the members of my caucus, thank you for entrusting me to once again serve as your majority leader. Our duty is to the people we serve, let the history encased in this building be a reminder of that.

A special thank you to my family. Without your support, and often your own sacrifices, I would not be able to serve.

We have a lot of new faces in the chamber today. I am looking forward to getting to know and work with each of you. In this chamber I see a group of people with diverse experiences and unique paths, which have all led to this place today. It is the convergence of our unique perspectives with which Iowans anticipate we will tackle the tough issues facing our state.

We are all here to do important work on behalf of Iowans. We should not be afraid to share ideas. We should not be afraid to debate. It is healthy for ideas in this building to receive a spirited discussion and vetting. We should embrace a civil and open dialogue.

Each and every one of you should be proud of the responsibility your constituents have entrusted you with. Do not let the hectic nature of session days obscure your purpose.

I am afraid that our leaders in Washington may have lost that focus. People in Iowa and around the country are losing their faith in government. They are losing faith in the ability of good men and women to tackle issues head on.

They see a Congress afraid to debate issues openly or operate transparently by passing a budget. They see runaway spending as the nation's debt burden reaches nearly inconceivable levels. They watch health care costs skyrocket yet no reforms to slow it.

They see lip service paid to the burden of overregulation only to watch onerous rules continue to proliferate under overzealous agencies. Our farmers are busy feeding the world and yet doubt is cast over their industry because of the failure to pass a farm bill.

The so-called "fiscal cliff" epitomized why so many are losing faith. Allegedly, Washington was finally forced to confront its own fiscal crisis. The result? More taxes, MORE debt, and they kicked as many cans down the road as they could.

If you feel anything like me then you are probably ready to tell them to get out of our way and let the states handle it!

It is my hope that the  $85^{\rm th}$  General Assembly of Iowa may serve as an example of the best in public service. Iowans can be proud that we do not have the same problems that plague Washington.

In fact, we have the opportunity to show Washington what happens when we focus not on our differences, but on our common goals. Let's work together to identify the problems we face and focus on solutions.

An area where we should be able to come together is educating our youth. There was a time when the education system in Iowa evoked pride. Today however, it raises mostly concern.

We are concerned about the quality and rigor of the education our children are receiving. We are concerned that students are not graduating with the mastery necessary to succeed in college. We are concerned that our students are not graduating with the skills needed to enter the workforce and that increasingly our students must compete with not just those from other states, but other nations.

We must be resolved to address our education system. We should be open to new approaches and focused on measureable results. If we continue to fall behind, our children will find it difficult to compete and our employers will be left to look elsewhere for a skilled workforce.

Revitalizing our education system is one of the great opportunities of this General Assembly.

The citizens of Iowa have told us they are unhappy with the unsustainable growth of property taxes. If we continue to do nothing, our commercial rates will continue to drive away business, and homeowners will bear the burden of historic increases thanks to the roll up. Most of us in the room recognized that and campaigned on addressing it.

It is time for the campaign rhetoric to become action. As we do so, we must acknowledge our own poor record of funding property tax credits. We must also appreciate concerns that property tax cuts could shift the burden to other classes of property.

Property tax relief and reform can take many forms. We should be open to many ideas. However, as recognition of our own shortcomings we should ensure that it is significant, predictable and avoids any shift while benefitting all classes of property.

President Ronald Reagan is famous for saying "the problem is not that people are taxed too little, the problem is that government spends too much." I think we can update that for Iowa in 2013. The problem is not that the state spends too little, the problem is that we collect too much!

We worked hard over the last two years to implement some common sense principles into the budgeting process. Thanks to the hard work of Iowans and these sound budgeting practices, we find the state's finances in a healthy position.

This is tenuous however, so we must be vigilant. This starts by sticking to our budgeting principles of not spending more than we take in, not balancing the budget by intentionally underfunding obligations and not using one time funds to pay for ongoing expenses.

We can build on our success by adding another principle. We should return unused tax dollars back to the taxpayers of Iowa. The state is funding its obligations. Bipartisan budgets over the last two years have ensured that. Yet we have an ending balance.

Rather than looking for ways to spend that money, we should give it back to whom it belongs. It is the hard-working taxpayers of Iowa who earned that money and it is they who can best invest it back into our state. Please resist the urge to grow government with that money, it might not always be there.

At a time when the federal government is fighting over how to take more money, I look forward to spending our time on how to return it. Which is why I think Iowa is positioned to be a leader in the nation and to provide a shining example of the best in public service.

Again, it is truly an honor to be back in this beautiful Capitol building. Welcome back to the people's House! Let's get to work!

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.
